William Cowper

Our stainless steel wire mesh products are truly blessed with hearts of steel. They offer excellent acid, alkaline as well as heat resistance. And back it up with high tensile strength and commendable anti rust properties. What's more, each one of our products is ultrasonically cleaned.

There are basically two different types of wire mesh weaves. One is a plain weave which includes fine mesh, super fine mesh, coarse mesh, super coarse mesh, etc, the other is a twill weave. We manufacture our products according to the weave our customers require for the product they choose.

We can custom design and manufacture all types of wire mesh products to suit your requirements.
